BOB BALLEn and Melinda Plowman go over a scene from the Chapel Theaters latest play "Five Finger Exercise." The theater was dark this last weekend due to Labor Day holiday but will be going strong this coming weekend.

FROM THE WINGS

By Betty Schroeder

After a dark weekend at Chapel Theatre, due to the Labor Day holiday, cast of "Five Finger Exercise" is back better than ever, if that is possible. Saturday, Sept. 14 will again be dark when patrons and members will attend the Eighth Annual Dinner-Dance Awards at Jump 'N' Jack restaurant in Torrance, when "Angel" awards will be presented to the best in the many categories concerned with productions during the past season. Plays to be judged include: "Man In The Dog Suit," "Miracle Worker," "Marriage-Go-Round," "Exit The Body," "Devil's Advocate," "Send Me No Flowers," and "Houseboat Named Pebbles." Dick Miller will be master of ceremonies and dancing will be to the tunes of Hayden Richards and his band. Information regarding reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. Helen Borst, FR 8-4555.

provoking bits of humor and philosophy which makes this much an entertaining and engrossing production.

Veteran actors of South Bay theatres Margaret Middleton and Jack Daly of Redondo Beach give superb performances as the mother and father of this English family whose separate worlds and lack of communication among themselves almost causes tragedy. Three young newcomers to Chapel's stage include Robert Ballew as the German tutor; Melinda Plowman as the teenaged daughter Pamela; and Dennis Rhodes as the son Clive. Hailing from Hollywood, these three give polished performances with a promise of more to come in the future. Portrayals of the entire cast is most sincere, believable and honest, plus each one being able to conform to the many moods created by Peter Shaffer the author.

Special praise is given to the production crew which consists of Kathleen Briggs as assistant director and producer; set design and dressings by Phyllis Palmer; assistant to the director Carolyn Schroeder; stage manager Rudi Medina; lighting and sound by Lyle Smith, Steve Sands, Don Hoover and Jerry Mancera; props handled by Ruth Rockwell and Judy Matte.

Reservations may be made for the remaining three weekend performances, closing Saturday, Sept. 28, by contacting box office FR 2-9635. Chapel Theatre is located at 4164 Pacific Coast Highway, Torrance. Curtain is at 8:30 p.m.
